

Instructions for International Students Only: Financial Statement of Personal or Family Support

Who is considered an international student?

At USC, an international student is an individual of foreign nationality who will be entering, or has already entered, the United States with a student visa. Students already living in the United States and holding other non-immigrant visas (for example, an E2, H2 or L2) are also considered international students. (Individuals currently in the United States on a B visa may not apply for admission.)

On the application for admission, please write your name as it appears on your passport and/or your I-20 or DS-2019. If the name on your school record is different, enter that name in the field provided. As an international student, you must provide a valid address outside the United States that is not a P.O. box, even if your current mailing address is in the United States. Please submit a copy of your current passport together with this form.

Financial Statement of Personal or Family Support

International students are required to submit the Financial Statement of Personal or Family Support to the address listed on this form. The United States government requires all international applicants to provide proof of ability to pay tuition and living expenses before USC can issue a formal letter of admission and the forms required to obtain a visa.

International students do not qualify for need-based financial aid. The financial support document, stating your ability to pay for the first academic year of tuition and expenses, must be verified by a bank and dated within the last year. Applicants relying on support from their home government or other official agency must send USC a similarly appropriate financial support document from their sponsor. It is crucial for applicants to submit their financial support documents with their applications if they wish to receive notification of admission in a timely manner (2).

Please be aware that international students will not be able to pay for the full amount of their educational expenses by working while they are in the United States. U.S. government regulations strictly limit employment authorization and require holders of student visas to be full-time students; therefore, job opportunities are extremely limited.

Academic-Year Expense Estimate* (9 months)

International Undergraduate Students

Tuition	$51,442 (1)
Fees	$841
Room and board	$14,348
Books and supplies	$1,200
Transportation	$580
Miscellaneous expenses	$1,300

Total estimated costs $69,711

(Add $350 USC Orientation Fee to your first semester.)

*This is an estimated budget for the academic year 2016–2017. Costs for the 2017–2018 academic year are expected to increase. Students should check the Financial Aid website in March 2017 for updated figures. This is considered a moderate budget. Individual expenses will vary. The amount to be verified for one year of study is $69,711.

Notes:

- 1 Tuition costs are based on 12 to 18 undergraduate units per semester. Additional laboratory and equipment fees may be assessed, depending on the student's course of study. Summer fees are not included.
- 2 Any scholarship amount can be submitted as part of the financial support document.
