Who is considered an international student?
At USC, an international student is an individual of foreign nationality who will be entering, or has already entered, the United States with a student visa. Students already living in the United States and holding other non-immigrant visas (for example, an E2, H2 or L2) are also considered international students.

On the application for admission, please write your name as it appears on your passport and/or your I–20 or DS–2019. If the name on your school record is different, enter that name in the field provided. As an international student, you must provide a valid address outside the United States that is not a P.O. box, even if your current mailing address is in the United States. Please submit a copy of your current passport together with this form.
