The USC Village is a town center comprising 1.2 million square feet of retail and residential space, including Trader Joe’s, Target, Starbucks, Bank of America, Cava, and various other dining and public spaces. Eight residential colleges provide 2,500 beds for USC students.

McFarland Hall

The Student Union Building is home to our former Vroman Bookshop and is now the home of our Vroman Books bookstore. It also houses a cafe, a coffee shop, a gift shop, and a variety of other stores and services.

Resident Assistant

NASA. In 1973, the organization was founded as the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) to focus on space exploration and research. As a result, the campus offers a variety of academic programs and research opportunities in fields such as engineering, physics, and astronomy.
This page contains a variety of text, including descriptions of historical and cultural sites, as well as information about the University of Southern California. Here is a structured representation of the text:

Exposition Park

- California African American Museum
  - Located in the heart of Los Angeles, this museum features a permanent collection that highlights the history and culture of African Americans.

- Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum
  - This iconic stadium has hosted numerous important events, including the Olympic Games and Super Bowl games.

- Japanese American National Museum
  - Committed to preserving and promoting the history and culture of the Japanese American community.

Downtown Los Angeles

- American Museum of Natural History
  - One of the largest museums in the world, featuring a vast collection of natural and cultural artifacts.

- Los Angeles Philharmonic Association
  - The organization is known for its high-quality performances of orchestral, chamber, and other musical works.

- Ahmanson Theatre
  - A premier venue for theatrical productions and concerts in Los Angeles.

USC Self-Guided Tour

- USC Viterbi School of Engineering
  - Home to one of the top engineering programs in the country, offering degrees in various disciplines.

- USC School of Architecture
  - Located in the heart of Los Angeles, this school offers programs in architecture and urban planning.

- USC School of Cinema and Media Arts
  - Known for its film and television programs, including the renowned USC School of Cinematic Arts.

University of Southern California

- USC Boas School of Education and Public Policy
  - Focuses on preparing future leaders in education and public policy.

- USC Gould School of Law
  - Offers rigorous legal education and training in various fields.

The University of Southern California is a private research university located in Los Angeles, California. It is known for its diverse academic programs, including schools of engineering, architecture, cinema, and law. The university is also home to the USC Viterbi School of Engineering, the USC School of Architecture, and the USC School of Cinema and Media Arts. The USC School of Education and Public Policy and the USC Gould School of Law are committed to producing leaders and professionals in their respective fields. The university's location in Los Angeles provides students with access to a vibrant city that offers a wealth of cultural, educational, and entertainment opportunities.

For more information, visit the website of the University of Southern California at usc.edu.